CALLIGRAPHY

The definition of calligraphy refers to a special, formal style of handwriting. The formal writing often used on wedding invitations is an example of calligraphy. One can learn CALLIGRAPHY and use this beautiful form of writing right from one's young age. Various different styles and fonts are taught using a variety of nibs.

Three easy steps:

METHOD 1. Learning the Basics

30 - 60 Degrees position

wiki

1. Hold your pen diagonally at a 30 to 50 degree angle. A calligraphy pen isn't used quite the same way as a regular pen. The tip, or nib, of the pen should point diagonally away from you, to the left, as you write.

2. Don't twist the nib as you write. The tip of writing tool used to do calligraphy is called a nib. Regardless of the letters you are forming, the orientation of the nib should remain consistent. Whether you're doing straight lines or loops, the tip of the nib should always point in the same direction.

3. Lead the nib backwards or sideways across the paper. The nib should move backwards or sideways from the direction it's pointing in. Pushing it forward away from your hand leads to blotting and uneven letter formation.

4. Apply light pressure. Using too much pressure can make for messy letters or scratches in your paper. Pressing too hard can also damage the nib, so do your best to apply the pen to the paper with a light, consistent pressure. Try not to lean heavily on your hand or forearm, either, which creates stilted lettering.

5. Keep your lines parallel. Vertical, horizontal, and diagonal lines in various letters should be parallel to corresponding lines in other letters. This will make your writing look more consistent and professional.

- For instance, try to make the vertical line the letter "d" parallel with the vertical line in the letter "b."

METHOD 2. Practicing Letters and Words

1. Trace the alphabet a number of times. Select and print a sample calligraphy alphabet and cover it with a piece of tracing paper. Try to recreate the strokes of the alphabet letters until you can successfully write the letters on your own

2. Use the correct stroke order. Each letter or symbol will be made up of several different sections which are done in a single movement, called strokes. Practice upward and downward strokes until you can make them consistent. For instance, in Western calligraphy, write vertical lines first followed by horizontal lines, such as when writing the letter "t."

- In Asian calligraphy, strokes begin at the top of the character and move downward to the bottom of the character.

3. Try the grid method. Set up a grid to practice with by filling a piece of paper with 1 inch (2.5 cm) squares. Use pencil to make the grid, and then fill in each row with repeated versions of whichever letter you wish to practice until your strokes are even and clean-looking.

4. Use templates to perfect your spacing. Calligraphy templates will help you master letter formation and keep your spacing consistent. They also keep your letters and words from slanting up or down across the page. Do an Internet search for free guilds or templates, or pick up a calligraphy guidebook to practice with.

METHOD 3. Selecting Your Supplies

1. Choose smooth, acid-free, archival paper. Smooth paper will keep your writing utensil from catching or being redirected by the paper. Look for paper that's labeled "acid-free" and "archival" to ensure that your image will age well. You will also want to look for paper which is labeled as "sized," meaning it's been treated to keep ink from bleeding.

- Avoid paper that's greasy or waxy, which can keep the paper from absorbing the ink.

2. Get a proper writing utensil. While you can create calligraphy with any writing utensil, there are certain writing instruments which are considered better than others. Which you use, however, will depend upon what type of calligraphy you are doing and what writing utensil feels best to you.

- Fountain pens are similar to dip pens but instead draw their ink from a container within the pen. While this ink will occasionally need to be replaced or refilled, it will save you the trouble of constantly needing to dip your pen. Fountain pens are commonly used for Western calligraphy.

- Brushes come in a variety of sizes but will usually all be roughly the same shape. These are dipped in ink and use the pressure and direction of the writer's strokes to form the line variations. Brushes are often used for Asian calligraphy.

3. Select the best ink for your style. There are many different types of ink and which one you choose will partially depend on what you are writing with. Inks will also come in a variety of colors but black is the most commonly used color in all styles of calligraphy.

- Pot ink is the most common ink used for calligraphy. This ink comes premixed in a small jar and your writing utensil will be dipped into it, such as for Islamic calligraphy. India ink is the most common type of pot ink used in calligraphy.

4. Use rulers or other guide instruments for consistency. You may want rulers or T-guides to create guidelines for yourself and ensure that your writing is straight. Or perhaps you wish to write across a curved or circular line and need a reference. Even experts use rulers and other guide instruments to make their writing as beautiful and consistent as possible.

5. Keep your paper in place with tape or weights. Use painter's tape or weights to hold the paper in place while you are writing. This will keep you from skewing or bumping the paper and messing up your letters. You can also use clips or a drawing board.

Countries of Africa: Kenya

The Republic of Kenya is named after the second highest mountain peak in Africa, Mount Kenya. This nation is famous for its national parks and its abundance of African wildlife such as lions, giraffes, and zebras. The Nairobi National Park features all of these animals and more, along with a view of the capital city, Nairobi, only a few miles away.
