THE CONTEXT THAT REQUIRED THE INITIATION OF THE PRACTICE

ICT-based Language Lab- Students who completed their school education in their mother tongue can use our language lab for remedial and bridge courses.

The state-of-the-art multimedia language lab encourages students to practice English at their own learning pace.

It is dynamic and updated regularly, and it values diversity and fosters high- quality learning experiences.

Exercises based on real-life scenarios in a defined framework are expected to help students feel more comfortable with the medium of instruction. (English).

The proposed strategy is built on skill-building, with a focal point on communicative competencies. Students' communication abilities increase as a result of these practices, so does their employability. It is designed to be simple so that the students feel comfortable with the self-paced modules with an option to choose the course based on their interests and need.

This practice ensures that students are exposed to competitive exam English questions. (English Mock Test Question Bank for competitive exams)

OBJECTIVES OF THE PRACTICE

- To provide a platform to practice languages and enhance students' Confidence.
- To Orient learners towards self-learning and to gain competencies in communication.
- To offer career-aligned and skill-based courses.
- To nurture skills through continuous assessment and motivating them for better achievements.
- To cater to the need of slow and average learners.
- To provide a platform for the smooth transition from a student to a professional.

REMEDIAL

The ultimate goal is to assist the students in refreshing their memories and providing them with the freedom to learn at their own pace. Vocabulary, grammar, pronunciation, spelling, and listening exercises are included.

COURSES TO AID PLACEMENT

IELTS foundation, Basics in French, German, Arabic, Japanese and Chinese courses support the student's aspiration to study/work abroad.

Students have the choice of opting for one or more in-built courses for the semester.

In-built courses have a mock test as a follow-up activity.

To institutionalize the practice, Language lab software is installed in all the major department's AV/Smart classrooms.

Students can have Interactive and practical sessions based on English questions in competitive exams.

PG Students and interested faculty can practice UGC NET 1st paper. All Departments can conduct bridge courses.

This prescribed practice is dynamic and when revisited periodically it fosters high-quality learning experiences.
